Introducing a Proposed Active Adult Community in West Davis

The West Davis Active Adult Community (WDAAC) is specifically designed to provide older Davis residents with new homes that meet their current and changing needs and the opportunity to downsize without sacrificing their existing lifestyle.

80% of the homes will be dedicated to those 55 years+ (active adult) and 20% of the homes will not be age restricted. This mixture of age groups will maintain an atmosphere and energy similar to traditional Davis neighborhoods.

This is not ‘Sun City’.

Our plan combines attractive Davis neighborhood elements with updated amenities for the needs of older Davis residents. We are rearranging, reinterpreting and innovating a variety of features with sustainability and energy efficiency.

Single Story Homes, Halfplexes, Cottages and Small Builder Lots

We are proposing a total of 325 single story homes of various sizes. The plan provides a variety of smaller universally designed homes that appeal to a wide segment of older Davis residents.

Comfortable, sustainable, and energy efficient features, including solar on all homes, are central to the design ethos.

A mix of architectural styles are being considered, including mid-century modern, craftsman and traditional.
